

TEACHING HEALTH SCIENCE

INTRODUCTION TO TEACHING HEALTH SCIENCE ONLINE COURSE

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This two-week, cohort-based course offers readings, videos, and a video-conference with a healthcare professional to expand your knowledge of healthcare careers and help you introduce students to this much needed, valuable career field.

SCHEDULE

This course takes approximately one hour per day across two weeks for a total of ten hours.

Spring 2019 Session: April 8 - April 19, 2019

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- Learn about the range of health care careers available.
- Learn to effectively advise students in healthcare career option.
- Demonstrate understanding of National Consortium of Health Science Standards and Accountability Criteria including areas of health careers, communication, legal and medical ethics, wellness, teamwork, human growth development, mental health, nutrition, infection control, and vital signs.
- Participate in various learning activities using Common Core Standards.
- Describe, analyze, and evaluate various teaching methods/ techniques and curricula for health science education.

Register online at www.ewu.edu/introtohealthcareers